Keep Performance in Perspective

When you look at your account on a short-term basis, it's easy to get caught up in day-to-day movements. But it's likely you aren't saving for tomorrow or even for the next day - you're saving for long-term financial goals. That's why it's important to maintain a proper perspective. While you can't control market volatility, you can control what you do to keep your investment strategy on track. You and your financial advisor can partner together to make adjustments as needed, so you can stay invested tomorrow and beyond.

Your Personal Rate of Return: Your Personal Rate of Return measures the investment performance of your account. It incorporates the timing of your additions and withdrawals and reflects commissions and fees paid. Reviewing Your Personal Rate of Return is important to help ensure you're on track to achieving your financial goals.

The performance of your investments is tracked since they have been held in the current account, but no earlier than Jan.1, 2009. This also includes investments you owned during this time period but have since sold. Certain events, including a transfer of an investment between accounts, share class conversion, or change in an investment's identification code (CUSIP) caused by a corporate action, will impact the time frame over which the investment's rate of return is calculated.

Rate of Return information on account statements uses the dollar-weighted calculation. Time-weighted Rate of Return numbers for Advisory Solutions Fund and UMA accounts can be found on your Quarterly Performance Report through Online Account Access. If you are not an Online Access user, visit edwardjones.com/access to sign up.
